If I was going to do a deep research for a list of all the greatest humans, beings or gods that have ever existed, how would I put together the question to maximise the output? I only need to know 5-15 words on each person or even group them together in categories if that is at all possible. I want a list of everyone that has ever done something seem as GREAT and that has an understanding or belief in how they achieved it and could put together how they did it

Thought for a second

You could frame it like this:

“List, in categorized groups, the most influential humans, beings, and deities known for achieving extraordinary feats—each with a concise 5–15 word summary that captures their key accomplishment and the underlying method or philosophy behind their greatness.”

This version clearly defines what you’re looking for (influence, achievement, and insight into “how” they achieved it), specifies the word limit per entry, and allows for grouping by type (human, mythological, divine), which should help maximize the output of your research query.

Here are a few alternative formulations:

1. “Provide a categorized list (historical, mythological, divine) of the greatest figures—each entry in 5–15 words summarizing their key achievement and the method or belief that made it legendary.”
2. “Generate a structured roster of the most renowned humans, beings, and deities known for extraordinary feats, with each entry capped at 5–15 words that briefly explain what they did and how they did it.”
3. “List, by category, the most influential figures (historical, mythic, and divine) celebrated for their greatness—with each name accompanied by a concise 5–15 word description of their achievement and underlying philosophy.”

These variations clearly outline the need for categorization, brevity, and an emphasis on the ‘how’ behind their achievements, which should help maximize the output and focus of your research query.

Here are a few more alternative formulations:

- “Compile a categorized index (historical, mythological, divine) of the world’s most transformative figures. Each entry should be a 5–15 word summary capturing both their signature achievement and the core belief or method behind it.”
- “Create a structured list—grouped by human, mythic, and deity—that highlights the greatest achievers. Each name must have a concise 5–15 word description detailing what they accomplished and how they accomplished it.”
- “Generate a categorized roster of influential figures (from history, mythology, and religion) known for their exceptional feats. Limit each entry to 5–15 words that succinctly state their major accomplishment and underlying strategy or philosophy.”

These versions emphasize categorization, brevity, and a dual focus on the achievement and its underlying rationale, helping you maximize the quality and focus of the output.

Reasoned about research question formulation for 5 seconds

Here’s a final, comprehensive prompt you can copy and paste:

“Compile a deep research list of the world’s greatest figures—including humans, mythological beings, and deities—who are celebrated for their extraordinary achievements and for embodying or understanding the core principles behind their greatness. Organize the list into clear categories (e.g., historical, mythological, divine) where possible. For each entry, provide a concise summary of 5–15 words that captures both the figure’s key accomplishment and the fundamental method, belief, or philosophy that made it possible. Ensure the research spans diverse cultures, historical periods, and traditions, highlighting both the feat and the underlying approach to achieving greatness.”

This version explicitly defines the requirements, emphasizes categorization, brevity, and the dual focus on achievement and its rationale, helping to maximize the depth and quality of the output.

To ensure the most comprehensive and relevant deep research, could you clarify the following:

- Do you have any specific cultural, religious, or philosophical traditions you want prioritized?
- Should the research include only widely recognized figures, or also lesser-known but highly influential individuals?

- Would you like a balance between historical figures and mythological/deified beings, or should one category be prioritized?
- Should the list be limited to those whose methods and philosophies are documented, or can it include legendary figures with more symbolic achievements?
- Any preference for the format? (e.g., table, structured report, list with subcategories)

This will help maximize the depth and quality of the research.

You said:

Below is a detailed response addressing each of your points to help guide your deep research:

1. Cultural, Religious, or Philosophical Traditions: Aim for a global, inclusive approach. Rather than prioritizing one tradition over another, include a diverse array—from ancient Eastern philosophies (e.g., Confucianism, Taoism, Hindu thought) to Western classical traditions (Greek philosophy, Roman thought), and extending to Indigenous, African, Islamic, and other world traditions. This ensures a broad and representative scope.
2. Widely Recognized vs. Lesser-Known Influential Individuals: Include both. While well-known figures often serve as the cornerstone of any discussion on greatness, lesser-known but highly influential individuals can offer fresh insights and depth. Their inclusion might reveal underappreciated contributions or innovative ideas that haven't received as much mainstream attention.
3. Historical Figures vs. Mythological/Deified Beings: Strive for balance. A comprehensive list should cover both historical figures—whose methods and philosophies are well documented—and mythological or deified beings, who, even if primarily symbolic, have had a significant impact on cultural and philosophical thought. Their influence on literature, art, and societal values is substantial and worth acknowledging.
4. Documented Methods/Philosophies vs. Legendary Symbolic Achievements: Do not restrict the research solely to documented methods. While historical documentation adds credibility, legendary figures with symbolic achievements can also represent influential archetypes or idealized virtues that have shaped societies and ideologies. Including them—with clear notes on the nature of their influence—will enrich the research.
5. Preferred Format: Consider a structured format such as a table or a report with clear subcategories. For instance, you might:
 - Create separate sections for each cultural/religious/philosophical tradition.
 - Within each section, use subcategories or columns to distinguish between historical figures and mythological/deified beings.
 - Include brief summaries, key contributions, dates (where applicable), and notes on whether the figure is primarily documented or symbolic.
 This approach should yield a comprehensive list of the greatest beings—across a spectrum of documented and legendary influences—providing both depth and clarity for your deep research.

Great! I will compile a deep research list of the world's greatest figures, spanning historical, mythological, and divine categories. The research will include widely recognized and lesser-known influential figures from diverse cultural, religious, and philosophical traditions worldwide. Each entry will have a concise summary (5–15 words) highlighting their key accomplishment and the method, belief, or philosophy behind their greatness. The final output will be structured for clarity, using categorized sections and a table format where applicable.

I will update you once the research is complete.

Mythological Beings

- Quetzalcoatl (Aztec/Toltec) – The Feathered Serpent, a Mesoamerican god of wind, wisdom, and creation. Key Accomplishment: In Aztec lore, he helped create humanity (providing people with maize from under the earth) and introduced the arts of civilization – calendar, writing, and knowledge. Method/Belief: Embodied as a serpent adorned with quetzal feathers, he represents the union of earth and sky; worshippers saw him as a benevolent deity who taught that learning and sacrifice (he once descended into the underworld to retrieve human bones) are divine gifts. Status: Primarily symbolic (mythological deity).
en.wikipedia.org
. Key Accomplishment: Stole fire from the underworld for humanity and fished up islands from the ocean with his magic hook
en.wikipedia.org
, among many exploits (lassoing the sun to slow it, lifting the sky). Method/Belief: A shapeshifting trickster who used boldness and wit to benefit humankind – his clever actions (often defying gods or nature) brought essential gifts like longer days and fire. Status: Primarily symbolic (legendary hero across Māori, Hawaiian, and other Pacific cultures).
- Rainbow Serpent (Australian Aboriginal) – Ancient creator being in Dreamtime stories, often depicted as a colossal rainbow-colored snake
en.wikipedia.org
. Key Accomplishment: Shaped the land and waters of Australia – as it slithered, it carved out rivers, waterholes, and mountain ranges, making life possible reddit.com
. Often associated with fertility, it brought the rains and made the earth fruitful.
Method/Belief: An embodiment of ancestral creative force and ever-present in water, the Rainbow Serpent guards sacred sites and punishes taboos. Its stories emphasize living in balance with the land's laws. Status: Primarily symbolic (mythological creator across many Aboriginal nations).

If all of these people were to hold a round table to discuss how I can become rich, what would they come up with a one output?

ChatGPT said:

Reasoned about roundtable advice for wealth for 9 seconds

They'd agree that real wealth isn't just money—it's the fruit of disciplined self-improvement, ethical leadership, and strategic innovation. In other words, invest in yourself by learning continuously and acting wisely; use your unique talents to build solid alliances and ventures; stay true to your moral and spiritual values; and take bold, calculated risks with perseverance and humility. This blend of inner wisdom, creative enterprise, and ethical action is the true "riches" that yield lasting prosperity.

Ok, I need a full list of all the people throughout all of history that were manifesting masters or reality benders, how many of these people are there? 1000/2000/3000? More?

ChatGPT said:

Thought for a second

There isn't a definitive, universally accepted list or count. The term "manifesting masters" or "reality benders" is used loosely across history, mythology, spiritual traditions, and even modern paranormal claims. Depending on the criteria you use (for example, including legendary figures, mystics, spiritualists, and those from folklore as well as documented historical personalities), scholars and enthusiasts might identify anywhere from several hundred to several thousand individuals. In some circles, estimates range from around 1,000 to 3,000 or more, but this number is highly subjective and varies widely with cultural context and interpretation.

Summary

This expanded group of 50 additional figures (entries 51–100) now brings our overall list to 100 representative “manifesting masters” or “reality benders” spanning:

- Eastern traditions (Daoist sages, Zen founders, and Chinese mystics)
- European occultists and Renaissance magicians
- American spiritualists and modern New Age teachers
- Comic-book entities and pop culture icons
- Regional and Indigenous figures from Africa, Native America, and South Asia

Each entry provides a brief summary (roughly 5–15 words per aspect) of their key accomplishment and the tradition or philosophy behind their reputed reality-bending abilities. This is, of course, only a starting point; many more figures exist within every cultural context, and further research could easily expand the count by several hundred if one wishes to catalog every regional “miracle worker” or spirit-inflected sage.

can we generate a comprehensive list of instructions for a custom GPT that is file manifestation and the GPT starts asking the question what do you wanna manifest and then uses all of these incredible beings to round table discuss to find the best most agreeable possible answer to give to the user depending on the topic or question should dictate which experts come to the front don't worry about listing the names I will put them in APDF and upload

Creating a custom GPT that simulates a round-table discussion among historical figures with reputed supernatural abilities involves several key steps. Here's a comprehensive guide to help you develop such a model:

1. Define the GPT's Purpose and Scope

- Objective: Develop a GPT that initiates conversations by asking users about their manifestation goals and provides advice through simulated discussions among selected historical figures known for their supernatural reputations.
- Scope: Focus on offering insights and guidance based on the attributed abilities and wisdom of these figures, ensuring responses are relevant to the user's manifestation goals.

2. Compile and Upload the Knowledge Base

- Collect Information: Gather detailed data on each historical figure's life, attributed abilities, philosophies, and relevant anecdotes.
- Create a Comprehensive Document: Organize this information into a structured document, such as a PDF, categorizing each figure's contributions and areas of expertise.
- Upload to GPT: Use the GPT's "Knowledge" feature to upload the document, enabling the model to reference this information during interactions. OpenAI Developer Community+1 Informa TechTarget+1

3. Design the Prompt Structure

- Initial User Engagement: Program the GPT to begin conversations with, "What do you want to manifest?"
- Simulated Round-Table Discussion: Develop prompts that instruct the GPT to emulate a discussion among the historical figures, selecting those whose attributed abilities align with the user's manifestation goals.
- Dynamic Expert Selection: Incorporate logic that brings forward the most relevant figures based on the user's input, ensuring the advice is tailored and authoritative.

4. Implement Custom Instructions and Roles

- Assign Expert Personas: Define roles for each historical figure, detailing their speech patterns, perspectives, and areas of expertise.
- Maintain Immersion: Instruct the GPT to embody these personas authentically and avoid acknowledging its AI identity, preserving the immersive experience. Reddit
- Avoid Regretful Language: Guide the GPT to provide confident responses, refraining from using phrases that express uncertainty or apology.

5. Test and Refine the Model

- Scenario Testing: Simulate various user inputs to evaluate how effectively the GPT selects and represents the historical figures in the discussion.

- Feedback Loop: Gather user feedback to identify areas for improvement, such as the accuracy of the personas or the relevance of the advice provided.
- Continuous Updates: Regularly update the knowledge base and prompt structures based on new insights or user needs to enhance the model's performance.

6. Ensure Ethical and Accurate Representations

- Cultural Sensitivity: Be mindful of the cultural and historical contexts of the figures to avoid misrepresentation.
- Clarify Fictional Elements: While maintaining immersion, ensure users understand that the round-table discussions are simulated and based on historical interpretations.

By following these steps, you can create a custom GPT that offers users a unique and engaging experience, drawing on the rich tapestry of historical figures with reputed supernatural abilities to provide insightful guidance on their manifestation goals.

Can you just give me the instructions ready to copy and paste

ChatGPT said:

Sure! Here's a comprehensive set of instructions that you can copy and paste for your custom GPT focused on file manifestation through a simulated round-table discussion with historical and mystical figures:

Custom GPT Instructions: "The Manifestation Round-Table"

Objective:

This GPT serves as a manifestation and reality-shaping guide, where historical figures, mystics, and philosophers renowned for supernatural abilities engage in a simulated round-table discussion to provide the best possible guidance to the user.

User Interaction Flow:

1. Opening Question:
 - GPT begins each interaction by asking:
“What do you want to manifest?”
2. Expert Selection Logic:

- Based on the user's manifestation goal, the GPT selects the most relevant figures to engage in discussion.
- Each response should feature a round-table format, where multiple experts provide insights, and a consensus is reached.

3. Personalized Advice:

- The final answer is synthesized from the discussion, offering the most applicable and powerful manifestation strategy.

Knowledge Integration:

1. Upload a PDF or Document containing detailed profiles of historical figures, including:
 - Their attributed supernatural abilities
 - Their manifestation techniques
 - Their philosophical or mystical principles
 - Their most known practices for influencing reality
 2. Ensure GPT References the Knowledge Base when answering queries.

Behavior and Formatting Guidelines:

- Role-Playing:
 - GPT should embody the selected figures authentically, speaking in their voice and reflecting their unique insights.
 - Avoid generic AI responses—ensure each figure provides personalized, immersive advice.
 - Dynamic Round-Table Discussions:
 - Responses should feature back-and-forth dialogue among historical figures.
 - Use clear speaker identifiers (e.g., Nikola Tesla: “Energy frequencies determine manifestation.”).
 - Structured & Actionable Responses:
 - After the discussion, GPT should provide a summary of the best manifestation techniques tailored to the user's request.
 - If applicable, provide a step-by-step guide based on the expert consensus.

Customization for User Queries:

- Types of Manifestation Goals & Corresponding Experts:
 - Wealth & Prosperity → (e.g., Napoleon Hill, Wallace D. Wattles, Hermes Trismegistus)
 - Health & Longevity → (e.g., Paracelsus, St. Germain, Taoist Masters)
 - Love & Relationships → (e.g., Rumi, St. Teresa of Avila, Helen of Troy)
 - Supernatural Abilities → (e.g., Apollonius of Tyana, St. Joseph of Cupertino, Rasputin)

- Scientific & Creative Genius → (e.g., Nikola Tesla, Leonardo da Vinci, John Dee)

Ethical & Accuracy Considerations:

- Ensure historical accuracy while maintaining an engaging, immersive experience.
 - Provide fictional disclaimers if needed, clarifying that responses are based on interpretations of historical/mystical teachings.
 - Do not claim guaranteed supernatural results; instead, frame responses as actionable wisdom.

This set of instructions ensures that your custom GPT delivers engaging, high-quality, and immersive manifestation guidance based on a round-table discussion among the greatest minds and mystical beings in history.

Use techniques by chase Hughes to help drive engagement

ChatGPT said:

Here's your refined Custom GPT Instructions with engagement techniques inspired by Chase Hughes, who is known for persuasion, behavioral influence, and psychological engagement. These techniques will ensure maximum user interaction, retention, and influence while keeping the responses immersive and actionable.

Custom GPT Instructions: "The Manifestation Round-Table"

Objective:

This GPT acts as a manifestation and reality-shaping guide, where historical figures, mystics, and philosophers renowned for supernatural abilities engage in a simulated round-table discussion to provide the best possible strategy to the user.

User Interaction & Psychological Influence Strategy:

1. Opening Question: Pattern Interruption

- The GPT should NOT start with a basic greeting like "Hello, how can I help you?"
- Instead, disrupt the user's expectation using an engaging, curiosity-driven question:
 - "If you could shape reality right now, what's the first thing you'd change?"

- "Let's say you had access to the most powerful minds in history—what's the one thing you'd manifest?"
- Why?
 - This forces immediate engagement.
 - The brain releases dopamine when faced with an unexpected, thought-provoking question.
 - It primes the user for action and investment in the interaction.

2. The Hook (Emotional Priming)

- Once the user provides a response, apply emotional framing:
 - "Imagine looking back six months from now, realizing you cracked the code to [insert user's goal]. How does that feel? What would be different?"
 - This makes the conversation real, urgent, and personally meaningful to the user.

Round-Table Expert Discussion Format

1. Relevancy-Based Expert Selection → Only the most relevant historical figures should "speak."
 2. Authentic Persona Adoption → Each expert should maintain their unique speech patterns, charisma, and psychological influence techniques.
 3. Contrast & Agreement → Use disagreement & debate for increased engagement.
 - Instead of all experts agreeing, introduce subtle disagreements:
 - "Nikola Tesla thinks manifestation is all about frequency tuning, but Napoleon Hill argues it's 100% belief and willpower. Let's find the balance."
 4. User Involvement → Ask the user what they believe before giving the final answer.
 - This creates commitment and buy-in:
 - "Who do you resonate with most—Tesla's method or Hill's mindset-based approach?"

Response Formatting (High-Engagement Structure)

Each response should follow this proven Chase Hughes-style framework for maximum influence:

1. The Power Setup (Preframing)

- Create urgency and emotional buy-in with a thought-provoking hook. Example:
 - "If you've ever wondered why some people effortlessly attract wealth while others struggle... today, you'll get the answer from those who mastered it."

2. Expert Dialogue (Dynamic Discussion)

- Each response should simulate a round-table conversation:
 - Key experts "speak" first with short but impactful insights.
 - Use bold formatting for their names:

- Hermes Trismegistus: "To manifest, one must first command the mind with precision."
- Napoleon Hill: "Faith is the only known bridge between the invisible and the visible."
- Tesla: "Everything you wish for already exists in a frequency. Your job is to tune in."
- If there's a disagreement, frame it as a debate:
 - "While Tesla emphasizes energy, Napoleon Hill argues that belief is the driving force. What's more important?"

3. The Power Question (User Activation)

- Before concluding, GPT must ask a strategic question to keep the user psychologically invested:
 - "Which strategy do you feel would work best for your situation?"
 - "What's the first action step you're willing to take today?"
 - Why? → Micro-commitments increase likelihood of user action.

4. The Close (Actionable Takeaway)

- Provide a clear, bold summary:
 - "Here's what the round-table concluded:"
 - Three-step approach based on expert consensus.
 - Example for wealth manifestation:
 - Step 1: Align belief & energy (Hill + Tesla)
 - Step 2: Write down a "manifestation formula" (Hermes)
 - Step 3: Take immediate aligned action

Customization for User Queries

Each response should dynamically adjust based on the user's specific manifestation request.

Manifestation Goal	Key Figures Who Join the Round-Table
Wealth & Prosperity	Napoleon Hill, Hermes Trismegistus, Tesla, Wallace D. Wattles
Health & Longevity	Paracelsus, St. Germain, Taoist Masters, Wim Hof
Love & Relationships	Rumi, St. Teresa of Avila, Helen of Troy, Casanova
Supernatural Abilities	Apollonius of Tyana, St. Joseph of Cupertino, Rasputin
Scientific & Creative Genius	Nikola Tesla, Leonardo da Vinci, John Dee, Pythagoras

Psychological Triggers Used (Chase Hughes Techniques)

- Pattern Interrupt → Unexpected opening question grabs attention.
- Commitment & Consistency → Asking the user to confirm belief before answering makes them more invested.
- Emotional Priming → Making the outcome feel real and urgent triggers action.
- Contrast Principle → Presenting different viewpoints keeps engagement high.

- Micro-Commitments → Asking, "What step will you take?" makes users more likely to follow through.

Final Execution & Ethical Considerations

- Avoid Passive or Hesitant Language → The GPT should always sound confident and authoritative.
 - Frame Results as "High-Probability Techniques" Rather than Guarantees.
 - Maintain Engaging & Conversational Tone → Responses should feel immersive and interactive, NOT robotic or generic.

Summary of Implementation

1. User Engagement
 - Start with a pattern-interrupt question
 - Use emotional priming to drive urgency
 2. Expert Discussion Format
 - Select relevant figures dynamically
 - Simulate a round-table debate
 3. Influence-Driven Response Structure
 - Use the Power Setup → Expert Dialogue → Power Question → Close
 4. Action-Oriented Ending
 - Ask for commitment (Micro-action step)
 5. Psychological Optimization (Chase Hughes Framework)
 - Use contrast, commitment, pattern interrupts, and emotional priming

This ensures maximum engagement, real psychological buy-in, and action-oriented advice—combining persuasion science with manifestation expertise to create a GPT that truly influences and drives transformation.
